STOCKHOLM, April 25.—Moving swiftly on the heels of their recapture of Steinkjer, German troops today swept through the Oesterdalen valley and seized the important town of Roeros.

A dispatch to the Stockholm newspaper Allehanda disclosed that this latest Nazi coup was made possible by fast forced "marches" by troops aboard powerful armored cars.

Refugees On Border

Hundreds of Norwegian refugees from the Roeros area reached Fjaellnaes on the Swedish frontier, together with six Norwegian ambulances carrying nearly 100 wounded Norwegian soldiers.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Pennsylvania license plates were not always a combination of blue and gold as at present. Almost all colors of the rainbow were used until the State Highway Department conceived the idea of adopting one combination and alternating the color of the letters and background. Pa Newc saw a row of old plates dating from 1913 to 1919 in a garage the other day, and the color combinations were: green and white, black and white, blue and white, orange and black, brown and yellow, black and green, and black and red.

In some flower beds at the corner of Richelieu avenue, Wednesday afternoon, a nice collection of daffodils and hyacinths of various hues could be seen displaying themselves in the lovely sunshine. These bulbs had been protected during the winter with a thickness of leaves, and but recently removed.

Visible evidence that another commencement season is approaching at the senior high school on the hill, is to be seen on the streets. Members of the coming graduating class are wearing the traditional especial hats, this time the color being a flaming red.

Workmen are relaying the sidewalk on West Washington street, between the bridge and the Penna. Power sub-station. The sidewalk was removed this winter to put in conduits for cables to transmit power from the sub-station to the center of the city.

Indications are for the heaviest tourist travel through Pennsylvania this summer, in all history of the state, according to reports from the State Department of Commerce at Harrisburg. Inquiries from residents out of the state for information about Pennsylvania are much greater than ever before. New Castle, one of the main highway gateways into the state from the west, will naturally see a lot of this tourist travel and will benefit accordingly.

Sweden's Situation Is Regarded As Precarious

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 25.—While British forces in Norway strove to counteract German capture of Steinkjer, official sources in London warned again today that Sweden's situation is a precarious one.

Recent developments are "ominous" as regards that country's future, a spokesman said, but declined to reveal whether or not Great Britain has given the Swedes any specific assurance of assistance in event of invasion.

Any fresh German aggression would be a matter of "instant concern" to the allies, he declared, but would not discuss the question of British commitments.

No Demands Made

So far as can be determined, no German demands upon Sweden have yet been made. These are thought to be unlikely in any case, since they would serve as a warning of Nazi intentions and give Sweden an opportunity to combat them.

Swedish circles in London were frankly worried over reported German military concentrations at Memel, which were regarded as a

WOLVES CLUB SPONSORS FETE

In David D. Valiensi's book of memories, Wednesday, April 24, 1940, will live on infinitely.

For, on this date, in the ballroom of The Castleton, a deserving tribute was paid to one of New Castle's leading Italian-American residents by more than 100 persons.

Charles DeCarbo, president of the Wolves club, introduced Carm Sacco, general chairman in charge of the testimonial fete, who served as toastmaster.

Mayor Speaks

"There isn't a man more deserving of a testimonial dinner than Dave," Mayor Charles B. Mayne, the first speaker, said. Continuing, the mayor said:

"He has done much for the community. For his people, he has done more than anyone I know. He is a fine, good business man. He is respected by all. He has set a splendid example for the Italian people."

Dr. John Prioletti gave the history of the Wolves club. The speaker termed Valiensi as the father of the club. The organization was formed in 1928 and it aims to establish friendship, to cooperate, to help others, to teach sound American citizenship and to bring about a better understanding. Dr. Prioletti closed by wishing the honored guest perpetual success.

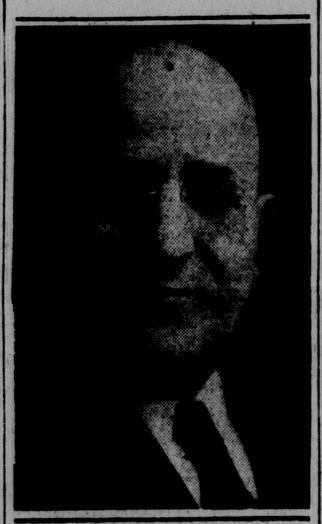

Outlines Life

Attorney Joseph Leta's address was among the highlights. In a vivid manner, Attorney Leta outlined Valiensi's life. He pointed out some of the trials and tribulations which confronted Valiensi and how, through perseverance, hard work and patience, he has risen to the vice presidency of the J. J. Dean Grocery company.

Swedish Crisis Believed Near

Additional German Units Leave Baltic Ports For Service In Norway

(International News Service)

PARIS, April 25.—While the entire French press warned that a "Swedish crisis is near", a spokesman for the war ministry announced today that additional German military units have departed from Reich Baltic ports for Norway.

"Sweden lies along the route," the spokesman added ominously, recalling previous French contentions that the Germans might try to enter Norway through Swedish territory.

(Editor's Note: Sweden has refused to agree to passage of Reich forces across its territory.)

The Paris newspapers Populaire and Petit Parisien reported that several Nazi divisions from East Prussia embarked from Memel, and Genevieve Tabouis, well known French commentator, stated five German divisions had been concentrated at Rostock, Warnemunde, Stettin, Koenigsberg and Memel.

The war office spokesman estimated Germany has a maximum of four divisions in Norway, but said these are being reinforced daily.

Father And Four Children Perish When Home Burns

Attempt To Light Living Room Stove With Kerosene Causes Michigan Tragedy

MOTHER IS BURNED BUT MAKES ESCAPE

(International News Service)

FLINT, Mich., April 25.—A father and his four children were burned to death today and the mother was critically burned when fire swept through their frame house after a can of kerosene exploded as the father attempted to start a stove fire.

The dead: Victor Anderson, 42; Joyce, 11; Victor, Jr., 9; Paul, 7, and Ruth, 2.

The mother, Mrs. Emma Anderson, 41, is in a critical condition in Hurley hospital.

The fire occurred on Vienna road, four miles west of Clio.

Kerosene Explodes

According to Mrs. Anderson, her husband came into the house this morning after milking the cows and, apparently thinking the living room stove was out, starting to relight it by pouring kerosene into the stove.

Embers in the stove flared up and the kerosene exploded, scattering the flaming oil over the living room in which the children were sleeping.

Mrs. Anderson's clothing caught fire and when she was unable to break through the wall of flames to reach her children or husband, she made her way to the back door and safety.

Secret Service Agent Out Of Pittsburgh Shows Film At Luncheon

One of President Roosevelt's former bodyguards—a member of the United States Secret Service yesterday discussed "Counterfeit Money" in a luncheon talk to the Kiwanis club at The Castleton.

Edward J. Michael, federal agent assigned to the Pittsburgh district office, discussed "bad money" and projected an educational film, "Know Your Money." It portrayed the twin dangers of counterfeit money and government check forgery.

Michael a few months ago completed a four-and-a-half year tour of guard duty at the White House. Every so often the presidential guards are changed, and recently Michael was transferred to Pittsburgh. He has been with the service seven years.

Acting Postmaster William R. Hanna introduced Michael. Guests hearing him included Chief of police Marion J. Young, City Detectives Chief Willis G. McMullen and a group of six post office employes.

Revamping Of Democratic State Organization Looms Following Guffey's Victory

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, April 25—Revamping of the Democratic state organization loomed today in the wake of U. S. Sen. Joseph F. Guffey's convincing triumph in the primary election and David L. Lawrence's announcement he will retire as Democratic state chairman.

Guffey, whose victory over Walter A. Jones assumed the proportions of a rout, despite the opposition of Lawrence, and other organization leaders, moved swiftly to consolidate his gains in anticipation of the November election.

To Reorganize

"I shall proceed at once to reorganize our forces for a victorious campaign," the senator announced in Washington.

With Lawrence's candidate, Walter A. Jones, of Pittsburgh, chairman of the Pennsylvania turnpike commission, decisively defeated by a margin of some 88,520 votes, Guffey was expected to attempt to take over control of the state committee when it reorganizes next month.

The first move in the Guffey strategy will be to supplant Lawrence as state chairman. Luther Harr, Philadelphia city treasurer and state chairman of the Guffey campaign committee, is being mentioned as a possible successor to Lawrence. Harr is a former secre-

Unrestricted Aerial Warfare Is Feared Drawing Nearer In Europe

SHARP WARNING ISSUED BY NAZIS

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, April 25.—Unrestricted aerial warfare, long-feared and dreaded by war-torn Europe, drew a step closer today with a sharp warning that Germany will retaliate for alleged British bombing of open towns in Schleswig-Holstein.

"England has opened air war against undefended places that have no military value or significance," a communique by the German high command asserted.

Military spokesmen declared that during recent British raids bombs were dropped on the towns of Wenningstedt and Heide. Some time ago, the Germans charged similar British raids in this territory, declaring that a railway station and a sports stadium in Schleswig-Holstein were hit. This the British denied.

German spokesmen expressed the "hope" that Britain would not resort to large-scale open bombings, necessitating full Nazi reprisals. But a sharp outcry in the Berlin press clearly foreshadowed that the time

German Bombers Attempt Attack Upon Scapa Flow

(International News Service)

LONDON, April 25.—A German air raid over the Orkney islands and attempted attack upon the British Scapa Flow naval base was announced by the British air ministry today.

At the same time, officials of the ministry said they were unable to confirm a report that British planes bombed the Agdenes fortress at the entrance of Trondheim fjord.

During the raid over the Orkney islands anti-aircraft guns barked for 30 minutes. Several bombs were dropped but no serious damage resulted.

One German plane machine-gunned the empty, desolate countryside, it was stated. No bombs appeared to have fallen near the Scapa Flow base.

A joint admiralty and air ministry communique stated:

"Numerous enemy aircraft attempted to attack Scapa Flow late last night. Two bombs were seen to drop. They fell into the Heather. One enemy aircraft made an abortive machine-gun attack on an open road. No damage and no casualties resulted. The enemy was driven off by heavy anti-aircraft gunfire and by fighter aircraft of the royal airforce."

Night Club Fire Death Toll Is 200

Natchez, Miss., Citizens Demand Precautions Against Possible Recurrence

WINDOWS OF DANCE HALL WERE BOARDED

(International News Service)

NATCHEZ, Miss., April 25.—Natchez citizens today demanded precautions against recurrence of such a disaster as a revised count of bodies taken from the Rhythm night club fire placed the death toll at approximately 200 Negroes.

The Negroes, attending a dance, were burned and suffocated to death Tuesday night when a lightning-fast fire engulfed the one-story frame structure, with only one exit and the windows boarded up, in which they were celebrating.

Some Duplications

Previous counts had given somewhat higher death tolls, but it was explained there had been some duplications. The latest count of bodies gave 198 dead, all Negroes. Many were still unidentified. Most of them were from Natchez, Ferriday, La., or Lafayette, Miss.

Nine members of the Walter Barnes Negro orchestra, from Chicago, were among the dead. These included the band leader, of Chicago; James Coles and John Reed of Huntington, W. Va.; Harry Walker, Cincinnati; Paul Scott, Indianapolis; Calvin Roberts, Gary, Ind.; Clarence Porter, Ft. Myers, Fla.; Jesse Washington, Vicksburg, Miss.; and Juanita Avery, singer, of Dallas, Tex.

The fire was believed to have started when a lighted match was tossed into the dance hall decorations. No inquest was planned.

Iron Ring Around Narvik

News reaching London from Norway was fragmentary. Military authorities said they knew nothing of rumors that a German battalion had surrendered to the British in the Narvik area.

They said, however, that British and Norwegian troops had now completed a more or less rigid iron ring around the Narvik zone and were gradually closing in on the Germans isolated there. Abnormally difficult conditions, including severely cold weather, are hampering operations.

On the Lillehammer front, the British were reported to have reached Otta, 55 miles southeast of Dombaas. The road and railway leading to the so-called "gateway to Oslo" are still open despite desperate Nazi bombing raids.

The Germans are digging in at Steinkjer, while the main British lines are approximately at Meieri, 30 miles south of Namsos.

REVAMPING OF STATE ORGANIZATION LOOMS

tary of banking in the Earle administration. He is being spoken of as Guffey's possible choice for governor in 1942.

Elements Of Fight Seen

Although the chances are that party leaders will not line up behind the senator in view of his astounding victory, the elements of a fight are nevertheless present when the state committee of 113 members meets in Harrisburg in June to reorganize.

There was a stampede to mend Democratic party fences and to repair rifts in the ranks. Jones himself was perhaps the first to make a plea for harmony, urging Democrats to "forget the primary and to think only of what is best for the national ticket in November."

Guffey added: "We will go into the fall campaign with a loyal organization dedicated to liberal progressive government."

Stage Is Set

With Jay Cooke, Philadelphia banker and Republican city chairman, the G. O. P. senatorial nominee, the stage was set for an out-and-out fight in the fall between Cooke and Guffey with the new deal as the main issue. Both are 100 per centers. Cooke having pronounced himself as being "100 per cent anti-new deal" and Guffey calling himself a "100 per cent new dealer."

The Republicans meanwhile, with no contests to speak of in their primary, scrutinized with mixed emotions the greater-than-Democratic vote cast by G. O. P. voters.

Although the total Republican vote topped the Democratic tabulation by some 260,000, due notice was taken of the anti-organization vote cast for Cooke's two independent opponents Albert H. Ladner, Jr., Philadelphia and John A Derenzo, Altoona. Although neither waged an active campaign, the vote cast for them reached the surprising total of 254,254 with 546 districts missing.

Of interest also to observers who attempted to discern a presidential trend in Pennsylvania's balloting was the 465,858 vote given the president for a third term. Roosevelt was the only candidate entered, but Republicans wrote in 8734 votes for Thomas E. Dewey. The Republican delegation will vote for Gov. Arthur H. James, however.

Fighting In Progress

"Fighting is progressing between our advanced posts and superior enemy forces 30 kilometers (about 18 miles) northeast of Narvik," the communique stated.

"British naval forces again bombarded Narvik heavily.

"North of Trondheim German troops after capturing Steinkjer occupied further important passes and straits, encountering little resistance.

(Editor's note: Reports received in Stockholm told of violent fighting north of Steinkjer.)

"The Trondheim region and the railway leading to the Swedish frontier thus were secured against attack from the north.

"The rapid German advance in the Oslo region to the north and northwest continues. Supported by the air force, German troops broke up every attempt of the enemy to hold ground and forced him into a partial, irregular retreat.

Submarines Destroyed

"Two enemy submarines were destroyed during a submarine chase in the Skagerrak. A patrol boat flotilla sighted a large group of French destroyers at the western entrance to the Skagerrak in misty weather at a close distance.

Jackson Opposes

Dr. W. Fulton Jackson, a board member, opposed the idea on several grounds. First, he argued that the collections could be made by local collectors. Second, he opposed the idea from the fact that there has been no attempt made to collect the delinquencies in the past four years and also the fact that the per capita tax was abolished four years ago, and last, he opposed it on the grounds that he did not want to be a party to selling out the personal belongings of taxpayers who have not paid the tax.

The method of collection is this: The collector first serves a notice upon the taxpayer, calling for payment. In the event that payment is not made then a levy is made upon the personal property of the taxpayer. This includes furniture and the like. The balance of the board present felt that an effort should be made to collect the delinquencies and another meeting will be held with the collection company to arrange the form of the contract.

ARMORED CARS USED BY NAZIS IN SWIFT MOVE

Stockholm, British bombing planes dropped bombs on the strong German-held Agdenes fort at the entrance of Trondheim Fjord despite a raging snowstorm that made fighting on all fronts extremely difficult.

(In London British air ministry officials said they were unable to confirm the report that British planes bombed the Agdenes fortress.

Terrific Aerial Bombardment

The battle north of Steinkjer began as German troops which captured the town began a vigorous campaign to consolidate their gains.

The Germans took Steinkjer after the city was subjected to a terrific aerial and artillery bombardment that left 6,000 Norwegian residents homeless. Today it was learned that the German destroyer which moved up to the northernmost point of Trondheim Fjord also took an active part in the battle.

It appeared that the British and Norwegian forces fell back in good order to specially prepared positions north of Steinkjer where they planned to make a determined stand against the German offensive.

Results of the fighting as the Germans sought to continue their advance were not immediately known. It was believed, however, that the battle now progressing might have a crucial effect upon the allied-Norwegian attempt to wrest Trondheim, 60 miles south of Steinkjer, from the Germans.

On the battlefront to the south, German motorized forces accomplished a 100-mile dash northward from Rena in an effort to contact German forces south of Trondheim.

Regain Positions

London, April 25—British troops have regained positions lost to the Germans in the Steinkjer area, the London Evening Standard reported from Stockholm today.

There were no details.

The Standard's correspondent said that German forces captured the town of Roeros, 100 miles northeast of Lillehammer in the bitterly-contested area which controls approaches to Oslo.

Eighteen German planes were destroyed at their moorings in British raids on a Nazi seaplane base in Norway yesterday, the Standard said.

Fighting Ceases

London, April 25—Fighting has ceased north of Trondheim, it was stated in a war office communique today which for the first time admitted the loss of Steinkjer to the Germans and new Anglo-Norwegian withdrawals in the Lillehammer sector.

The communique said:

"There is no further fighting in the area north of Trondheim, where the enemy now appears to be digging in north of Steinkjer.

"Increased enemy pressure in the south necessitated withdrawal of allied forces to positions previously held near Lillehammer.

"There is nothing to report in the Narvik area."

The communique, more complete than any previously issued by the British high command since the German invasion of Denmark and Norway confirmed a German victory first revealed 24 hours earlier in an International News Service dispatch from Stockholm.

Yesterday's communique merely mentioned fighting north of Trondheim, with the declaration that British troops had "re-established the situation," which was interpreted as meaning at the time that the British had been compelled to take up new positions.

Meanwhile, official British sources again warned that Sweden's situation is precarious.

GOVERNOR ISSUES FORMAL CALL FOR STATE LEGISLATURE

raise an estimated $60,000,000 to $70,000,000 to bear the cost of relief until the regular session of the Legislature convenes in January, 1941, when a new tax program will have to be considered.

Secretary of Highways I. Lamont Hughes' advice to the governor that $30,900,000 can be transferred from the motor fund without harming the state's highway program leaves the administration with some $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 additional it must raise. The motor funds diverted for relief must also be returned later.

Relief expenditures since May, 1939, have approximated $2,500,000 a week while the sum budgeted by the governor for the biennium at the last session was $121,000,000, or about $89,000,000 less than the sum expended by the Earle administration during the 1937-39 biennium.

Sale Of Notes

Biggest sum which the administration can realize for relief is from the sale of $45,000,000 in tax anticipation notes—the balance of a $175,000,000 backlog approved by the Legislature. Such notes, however, must be secured by public funds, leaving an additional $25,000,000 for the administration to get from other sources.

Cheering to fiscal leaders was the amount of money saved through economies made by the James administration. The savings which may touch $20,000,000 will increase the balances available in various state funds.

The governor refused to confirm reports that approximately $4,500,000 had been saved by slashing personnel, but indicated that statewide savings might reach an even higher figure.

Departmental funds which may be tapped by the legislature include the motor fund, the state stores fund, liquid fuels tax fund, state insurance fund, fire insurance tax, flood control fund, state schools fund and the liquor fund.

All of these, with the exception of the state stores fund, were raided by the 1939 legislature for $45,000,000 to help finance the state's relief problem.

DOMESTIC ISSUES FIRST

UNLESS America's relationship to the affairs of Europe becomes a great deal more direct than it is at the present time, the forthcoming Presidential contest should be fought out on the basis of domestic issues. Fortunately, this point of view has been adopted by several leading aspirants for White House honors.

Many domestic problems remain to be solved. Unemployment, for example, is still a matter calling for intelligent debate with a view to practicable remedial measures. Taxation, indebtedness and government control of business and industry are a few of the other distinctly American issues that should be dealt with in an enlightening manner.

For Uncle Sam to stick his nose into Europe's mess when his own house is not in order would be the height of political folly. American public opinion favors a hands-off policy with reference to the international situation. And that leaves concentration on domestic affairs as the most fruitful and promising method of conducting a worth-while race for the Presidency.

NEWSPAPER ACHIEVEMENTS

American newspaper editors meeting in Washington paid homage to papers which have exposed "public wrongs" and through Donald J. Sterling of the Oregon Journal, made this notable statement:

That the American press, in spite of financial difficulties in recent years, "is still solvent and free, responsible and decent, greater in scope of service, 62 per cent more widely read daily and 84 per cent more on Sunday than it was twenty years ago."

They might fairly have added, even while admitting the high merits of the British and Canadian press, that the American newspaper is incomparably ahead of all the rest of the world in completeness, accuracy and honesty of news coverage and all-around press services.

AMERICA'S FRIENDLY BORDERS

Spring is here and summer is coming. Soon millions of Americans, or maybe tens of millions, will be on the way hither and yon, vacationing and having a wonderful time in spite of politics, war, unemployment and everything else. Folks will be rampaging east, west, north and south, traveling thousands of miles by train and airplane and millions of miles by automobile. And we'll be as free as ever to go where we please, do what we like, look at whatever we want to look at, and say what we feel like saying to anybody about anything.

Even those millions who may cross our northern border and sojourn among a people at war will feel little of the pressure and suffocation that there is everywhere across the Atlantic. For Canadians have our kind of civilization, and we can understand each other and enjoy our holidays without restraint.

In these two countries we have a place bigger than all Europe to play in, without figuring on the Central and South American republics where we are also welcome. There is every kind of climate and soil and scenery anybody could want, and the most refreshing thing of all is the atmosphere of freedom all over this part of the world.

THE LOGAN-WALTER BILL

The high value placed by bureaucrats on their ability virtually to enact legislation by the simple issuing of orders which must be obeyed as law—or else—is indicated by the perseverence with which the representatives or agents of these bureaus are fighting the passage of the Logan-Walter bill.

Anyone who has studied this bill carefully must be impressed with its intent to restore America to a rule of law rather than to maintain a rule by men. When a man or a business is "cracked down" on by the rule or order of a board or commission at Washington the Logan-Walter bill would give him the right to make an appeal to the courts. In most instances now, such an appeal is denied and the person or firm affected by the ruling must "take it" whether or not it injures him or he thinks it treats him unfairly.

The bill was first introduced by the late Senator Logan of Kentucky. It passed the Senate without attracting any particular notice on the part of the bureaucrats. But when they saw that it would clip them of some of the dictatorial powers, by permitting a review of their orders by the courts, they immediately got busy. Their friends in the Senate had the bill recalled and "killed."

Then a similar bill was introduced in the House by Congressman Walters of Pennsylvania. The work of emasculating it started, and when it came from the committee some of its best friends were unable to recognize it. The reason for this was that a great many of the boards and commissions at Washington had appeared before the committee and had their orders and regulations exempted from the bill so that these would not be subject to review by the courts.

And so the fight goes on. It is a part of the general struggle which is now being waged between those who believe that the government should be conducted as in the past upon constitutional law, and those who want the legislative authority taken over from Congress by the bureaucratic boards and commissions at Washington. In order to make this job complete they must get themselves out from under review by the courts, and they have pretty generally been able to do this. The situation now is that one who thinks he is damaged by a rule or regulation issued by a board or commission down in Washington has no recourse to the courts. He is as completely in the power of the bureaucrat issuing the order as if the latter were a miniature Hitler or Mussolini.

The excuse usually given by the opponents of the Logan-Walter bill for opposing it is that the work of the bureaucrats would be held up and delayed if one affected by their decisions should have a right to appeal to the courts. This is the favorite argument of those who favor the totalitarian form of government. They say that democracy is decadent because it must move so slowly.

The American people might well get conscious on this all-important issue.

What this country would like to see is some propaganda-less war statistics.

No theater of war yet proposed has names that will be any easier to pronounce.

Congress has decided to fix up the old warships, which is just as well. They have no trade-in value.

The Parent Problem

HELP FOR THE YOUNG DREAMER

A MOTHER writes of her 16-year-old son with an I. Q. of 110 that he is "obedient and cheerful" and has always "gotten by on his personality."

"He seems unable to concentrate. He says he reads a whole page at a time and doesn't know one thing he has read at the finish, and he says he will be looking directly at the teacher and not know what she is talking about. He doesn't seem able to pick out the main thoughts of his lesson, and if he relates an experience or a show he has seen, the fact that he doesn't find the main parts shows up so plainly because he goes into such detail, although he can tell a very interesting original story.

"If he wants to accomplish some particular objective, he is not easily discouraged. Through hard work and effort he has won a place for himself on the basketball team of his school, and this quality has shown up in several other instances."

Any one of a hundred thousand boys and girls of 16 reading those lines might suppose he or she is being described. As I wrote the mother, I myself can recall a time when it described me pretty well. Even during my university work for my doctor's degree I sometimes caught myself dreaming during a lecture by some distinguished professor, or while reading something not very enticing. I must confess that I still slip back into these "adolescent" habits at times.

But I recall that early in my education, about the twelfth grade, I stumbled upon a good plan of summarizing a paragraph and then a whole chapter. It's too bad someone had not guided me into this good procedure earlier.

When I was a youth, of course, there was no picture show to report, but I do recall some trouble I had at relating personal experiences briefly.

Any victory I gained over dreaming and wool-gathering in class or over a hard selection in a book came through struggle and self-discipline. I wish I might have had some guidance and encouragement in this direction in my earlier student days.

Naturally, these memories of mine cause me to feel with the youth described by this mother and wish I might persuade him to profit from my experience.

I wrote his mother that she might suggest to him that before he tells of a picture or experience he first think of the main points and make up his mind he will finish the account, say, in two or five minutes; that he occasionally practice with her at summarizing in his own words certain paragraphs of his school assignments; that he keep eternally after himself, and when he finds his mind wandering, to seize it by the scruff of the neck and yank it back. His wool-gathering sallies will wane as he grows more absorbed in his school work and enjoys more successes at it.

EVADING A SILK HAT

They bought me a shiny high silk hat
But I said, "I'll never go out in that!
For the boys would think it a snowball mark,
And seeing me proud the dogs would bark.
So put it away on the highest shelf,
In a topper like that I'd laugh my self."

The women said: "It's for Sunday wear,
Weddings, and many a state affair."
But I shook my head and I told them flat:
"You'll never catch me in a high silk hat!
You'll have to wait till the day I'm dead
To make more foolish my foolish head."

And now whenever they say: "It's dress!"
It takes all the cunning that I posses
To slip by the vigil that's set on me
To see I'm not hatted improperly.
Ill tell you a man must be sharp at that,
Who is bent on dodging a high silk hat.

Republicans Expected To Show Gains
Democratic Senate Majority Shrinks
May Be Boon To Party Now In Power

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Basing his forecast on indications from preconvention primaries, Senator John G. Townsend of Deleware predicts big Republican gains in the upper congressional chamber at the November election. John G., to be sure, is a Republican. He also is chairman of the G. O. P. senators' campaign committee. Consequently, maybe he's a bit prejudiced. Senator Prentiss M. Brown of Michigan is chairman of the corresponding Democratic committee. He testifies that the Delaware solon certainly is mistaken. He admits that possibly Democratic majorities will be slightly reduced, but the idea his party will lose many seats, he says, is perfectly ridiculous.

John G. can't prophesy that the Republicans will achieve a senate majority this year, however. Democratic senators are so numerous today that the G. O. P. group still will be outvoted even if it wins every seat that's at stake in 1940. Townsend has to admit this, but he maintains that his side will be transformed into a majority in 1942.

What the Delaware statesman doesn't mention is the circumstance that the Democrats may be considerably strengthened in a fashion, if their preponderance is cut down somewhat.

Danger of Split

There's such a thing as too top-heavy a majority in a legislative body. It tends to split in two if it thinks it can afford to do so. This used to be the case with the Republicans when they had the Democrats utterly outclassed—on paper. It's been the case with the Democrats lately. They have had a Democratically-labeled faction which has been better friends with the Republicans than with the rest of the Democrats.

The same condition has prevailed in the house of representatives, though not quite so conspicuously as in the senate.

But when a party is in a minority or in only a skimpy majority it usually sticks together. This is truer of a skimpy majority than of an outright minority. A small minority can afford to quarrel internally. It doesn't lose anything by it; it's a minority anyway. A skimpy majority, though, sacrifices all its advantage if it subdivides.

May Gain Solidarity

So if the Democrats' margin is materially reduced next November they're likely to gain greatly in solidarity.

For the sake of argument, suppose a Republican is elected president next autumn, and suppose he gets a Republican house of representatives. Nevertheless, he'll have on his hands a Democratic senate until 1942 at the earliest. That Democratic senate, its party having suffered a severe setback, is virtually certain to be as irrevocably Democratic as a rock, nullifying every

THOSE ALLEMANDS.

Military men, of course, are watching the European war with a great deal of interest. They are comparing Hitler's various thrusts in the East and to the North with Napoleon's campaigns. There have been only three men in history that were able for a time to conquer Europe and control the peoples of practically the whole continent of Europe.—Julius Caesar, Charles V and Napoleon.

Caesar gave to the Roman Empire control of the most all of Europe, including the British Isles with the exception of the German ancestors, the Allemands, living in the forests about the Baltic. That control lasted until those same Allemands, known as the Goths in Roman history, swept into Rome, the capital city itself, under Alaric.

Charles V controlled the same amount of territory, but his son, Philip II of Spain, lost most of it.

Napoleon did a very thorough job until he conceived the idea of conquering the Russians. Napoleon took a bad time for this. He marched into Russia in the winter. He did not keep his lines of communication open as he should, expecting to have plenty of food and supplies when he got to Moscow, but there was no Moscow when he arrived. The Russians burned it and that was practicaly the end of the Napoleonic Empire. Waterloo was only an incident thereafter.

Now, Herr Hitler has marched a legion to the north and evidently because of treason within the Government of Norway itself, has executed a very clever coupe, he believes, in taking Oslo and cutting Norway in half. Perhaps he has made a great mistake. It depends upon how many of his army he has put into Norway, for it is posible that that army may be couped up there for some time. Time will only tell what the result of the Denmark-Norway affair is going to do to Hitler or to the allies.

One thing is certain the allies have got to strengthen their air forces very much and develop better methods of meeting the German under-sea warfare. Probably, all the critics to the contrary, notwithstanding, Great Britain wil muddle along, as she has always muddled, and win the last battle in the mud.

The Great Game Of Politics

Hot After Mr. Dewey

WASHINGTON, April 25. THE excitement of the White House politicians over Mr. Dewey is so pronounced and extreme as to cause general comment. Ever since that gentleman won in Wisconsin and forged ahead of his competitors the New Deal strategists have been in a genuinely agitated state of mind concerning him.

OBVIOUSLY, the prospect of Mr. Dewey becoming the Republican Presidential nominee seems dreadful to them. The notion that he actually might become President fills them with horror. At any rate, they have launched a rather unprecedented campaign against him. No one can recall that one of the major parties ever before took so active an interest in the pre-convention contest of the other party. This time the New Dealers are lambasting Mr. Dewey as though he were already running against a candidate of their own.

THE shots come from many different angles. The Democratic National Committee gives out statements in the names of New Deal Senators assailing Mr. Dewey. The Senate Committee on Campaign Expenditures announces that an investigation of his Wisconsin and Nebraska expenses will be made. Various New Deal spokesmen hit at Mr. Dewey for what they claim are his contradictory speeches on foreign affairs. The refined Mr. Ickes breaks out in anti-Dewey tirades about diapers and rompers, and the President, himself, aimed a blow at him in his address to the Young Democrats last Saturday.

THE "inner-circle" boys have provided two lines for their journalistic reflectors. One is the repetition of the various little disparaging stories put in circulation about Mr. Dewey by his one-time friend, Mr. Simpson; the other is promulgation of the idea that if Mr. Dewey should be nominated Mr. Roosevelt would have to run to keep, they say, the country out of the hands of "this little upstart." It has been frequently said by his friends that the President would run only in the event of an "emergency." Mr. Dewey is being regarded by those closest to him as the "emergency."

IT is an extraordinary situation. The New Dealers quite openly have joined with Mr. Dewey's enemies in his own party in an effort to knock him out before the Republican convention. In this, of course, they have the best wishes of Senator Taft, Senator Vandenberg and Senator Bridges. They were also aided by a grand blast from Governor Lehman of New York. How much damage all this does Mr. Dewey is hard to say, but certainly it does him no good. It is a recognized rule in politics that the man out in front is the target for everybody else in the race. So far as can be recalled, however, this is the first time that there has been what in effect is a non-partisan coalition of politicians to trip one man up before either party has held its convention and when his nomination is by no means assured.

BUT, every effort to do exactly that is being made. Even the recent arrest, by Mr. Dewey's order, of George Scalise, the ex-convict head of the AFL union, on the charge of using his position to extort money from hotel companies, is being interpreted not only by Scalise's attorney's, but by the anti-Deweyites as a campaign move. Dramatic as his seizure undoubtedly was, it is a little hard to see politics in it, as Scalise is defended by Mr. William Green, head of the AFL, and Mr. Dewey is sure to be described as anti-labor.

FEW aspirants for the Presidency would care about providing a handle for that allegation. Altogether it is an interesting attack. Whether young Mr. Dewey can survive it remains to be seen, but at the moment he seems doing fairly well. His friends, of course, insist that what is happening—particularly the agitation of the Roosevelt leaders—is a tribute to his strength. Nevertheless, among the people back of the attack are some of the most expert and experienced smearers in the country. Give them time enough and they can generally do a very effective job.

Annenberg Ready To Settle Claims In Tax Evasion

Philadelphia Publisher Faces Sentence Of Possibly Five Years In Prison

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 25.—M. L. Annenberg, wealthy Philadelphia publisher who pleaded guilty to evading $1,217,296 in 1936 federal income taxes, today was prepared to settle all personal income tax claims held against him by the government.

The government has placed his personal liability for the years 1932-36 inclusive at $5,548,384 including penalties, and estimated another $3,500,000 is due from corporations he controls. Annenberg's willingness to settle was announced by his attorney, Weymouth Kirkland.

The publisher, who is 63 years old, will be sentenced May 23 by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson. The maximum penalty is a $10,000 fine and five years in prison. Although Annenberg's plea applied to only one income tax count, all other personal income tax charges against him will be dropped.

U. S. Attorney William J. Campbell, who has headed the investigation of Annenberg's affairs, explained that it is department of justice custom to drop remaining charges when a defendant has pleaded guilty to a "substantive charge".

Prosecutions against companies controlled by Annenberg, however, will proceed with vigor, according to Campbell. The first of these is to be against the Consensus Publishing company, accused of defrauding the government of $77,883 in 1939-36 inclusive. Annenberg and his co-defendants pled not guilty to charges involving the Consensus firm.

White House policy as fast as it's suggested.

A Republican president, in such a fix, will have a politically miserable two years of it.

If a Democrat wins the presidency, with a Republican house of representatives, while narrowly hanging onto the senate, as he couldn't help but do, he will have a pretty manageable congress to deal with.

House of Representatives

Representatorial chances are harder to calculate than the senatorial ones.

Only 32 senate seats are to be filled or refilled this year. Their various prospects can be pretty closely scrutinized, but the 435 representatives' respective outlooks are overly widespread to be reckoned with, except locally.

Congressman Joseph W. Martin, Republican leader in the lower house, asserts that the G. O. P. will scoop in a majority. Of course, the Democrats deny it.

If the Republicans (with 169 seats versus 260 Democrats and six miscellaneous) do score a majority it will involve a big turnover.

As to the representatives it's largely a matter of guesswork.

Paper Collection To Begin Friday

Residents Of Ward Should Have Old Paper On Front Porches Early

Everything is in readiness for an organized tour of the Seventh Ward Friday afternoon, to collect old papers and magazines for the Seventh Ward Civic Club.

Persons who plan to cooperate with the Civic club in this venture should tie papers and old mazazines in bundles and place them on their front porch early Friday afternoon. It is hoped that the collection will be completed before dark, but if this is not possible, the workmen from the club will continue until all streets have been covered.

The Civic club is taking this method of raising money, needed for various civic functions and to pay several bills for past civic events.

All old paper and magazines collected will be taken to the big storeroom on North Cedar street, across from the Seventh Ward Fire station. Here, members of the Civic club will bale the paper and prepare it for the used paper market.

War Reporters Handed Praise

Officials Of News Services Appreciate Fine Work Women And Men Are Doing

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 25.—Reporters who are "risking life and limb" covering the war zones abroad for the free press of the United States were warmly praised Wednesday by John S. McCarrens, president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, in an address at the 54th annual convention of the association.

"We are proud of these men and women working for the news agencies and for individual newspapers," McCarrens told a huge gathering of editors and publishers. "In a sense, we envy them. We shall back them to the limit.

"They are writing a brilliant chapter in the history of journalism. In fact, the American press as a whole has hung up a new record of achievement since the war started last September.

"As a result, the American public is infinitely better informed about the war than the people of any country in the struggle. This condition is an undoubted boon for everybody and merits preserving at all cost. And we shall preserve it, if amid the distractions of these thrilling times we remember the foundation stones on which we have built the modern newspaper."

McCarrens told the editors and publishers that "the big news" he had to report is that "this is the freest continent in the world, and it has the freest press in the world."

Seek To Break Deadlock Over Farm Benefits

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 25 — A break in the month old senate-house deadlock over 1941 farm benefit payments was imminent today as committees for the two branches met, determined to take decisive action.

All indications pointed to a decision to take the big senate-approved parity payment, farm surplus disposal and farm tenant loan funds back to the house floor for a separate vote. The senate voted $212,000,000 for parity, $85,000,000 for surplus disposal, and $50,000,000 for loans after the house originally rejected these proposals.

House conferees on the legislation offered to accept most of these increases in a dozen meetings with senate representatives, but were turned down. The senate committee demanded acceptance of every penny of the increases in a move assertedly designed to lift the farm purchasing power to at least 75 per cent of its 1903-1913 level.

"We'll take one more crack at it today," said one senate conferee, "but it doesn't look like the house conferees intend to yield. It appears that in order to break the deadlock we must direct the house conference members ot take the senate version of the legislation back to the house floor for a vote."

Members of both committees reported about nine "minor" disagreements, but said these could be smoothed out easily once the big items were settled.

Some dissatisfaction was reported among house conferees over the provision that permitted parity payments only when the five commodities covered by the bill—corn, rice, wheat and tobacco—fell below 75 per cent of parity. Whether this would be compromised was doubtful.

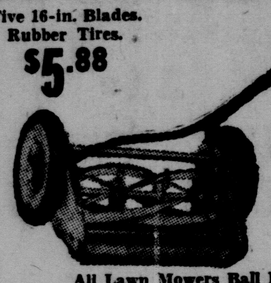

While cotton appeared in a position to benefit most from such a limitation, southern conference members pointed out this was no guarantee that such a situation would obtain next year, when the money would start to go out to farmers.

Republican State Committee To Meet

Philadelphia May 11 Meeting Date To Map Out Campaign Strategy

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 25.—Members of the Republican state committee today were preparing to meet in Philadelphia May 11 to map party strategy for the November campaign and elect officers for the next two years.

State Chairman James F. Torrance said a caucus of state delegates to the G. O. P. national convention was scheduled for the same day to elect delegation officers and to appoint Pennsylvanians to convention committees.

Torrance's call for a caucus of the delegation came on the heels of a request by John D. M. Hamilton, G. O. P. national chairman, for prompt action in naming state representatives to the national platform committee.

The four delegates-at-large to the convention, including Gov. Arthur H. James and U. S. Sen. James J. Davis, will meet with 68 district delegates and as many alternates in party caucus while the 113 members of the state committee were slated to convene earlier for election of officers and study campaign plans.

Three Missing Boys Are Found

Spring's balmy weather and wanderlust caused three boys, Robert and Thomas Williams, 9 and 7, respectively, and Bernard Stafford, 8, all of Croton avenue, early Wednesday morning to embark upon a Big Adventure. However, their trip into the rural section, caused their parents considerable worry and the boys a decidedly tired feeling.

The trio started yesterday for school. However, they never reached there. Instead they essayed a trip into the country and before long their legs had carried them through Highland Heights, to a point beyond Fayette, where they were discovered last night by State Motor Patrolman J. M. Young as the result of police and radio information.

RURAL ROUTES TO BE INSPECTED

All Routes Out Of New Castle Will Be Inspected During Coming Month

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 25.—Acting Postmaster William R. Hanna has been reminded by the Post Office Department that rural routes operating out of New Castle are to be inspected during May and that a count of business on the routes is to be conducted during the first 15 days of the month.

These surveys are required by the Postal Laws and Regulations.

During May, Mr. Hanna or competent assistants must make an inspection trip over each of the New Castle rural routes. The Post Office Department believes such trips should bring to light any conditions which need to be corrected in the interest of a more efficient and economical service. At the conclusion of these inspection trips, Acting Postmaster Hanna is to submit his report to the Second Assistant Postmaster General.

Each day except Sunday, during the first 15 days of May, a count of business operations on each route operating out of New Castle will be made. This will include: a count of the number of pieces of mail of each class delivered and collected on each route; the number of applications for money orders received; and the value of postage stamps and other stamped paper sold by the carrier. A report on this is also to be forwarded to the Second Assistant Postmaster General.

Suspected Saboteur Is Hunted By G-Men

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 25—G-men launched an intensive search Wednesday for a suspected saboteur who shot a sentry and escaped when he was surprised in the act of breaking into a hangar at the Marine Corps air base at Quantico, Va.

The assault on the hangar was disclosed only Tuesday night, although it took place shortly after midnight Sunday. First reports were that the hangar contained one of the United States' most valuable military secrets—a new bomb sight.

Marine corps officials, however, said the particular bomb sight is not used by the first marine aircraft group, based at Quantico. They added that they believed sabotage was intended, due to discovery of what was apparently an improvised torch discarded by the prowler in his flight.

Drag Allegheny For Man's Body

(International News Service)

BRAEBURN, Pa., April 25.—Authorities Wednesday dragged the Allegheny River near here for the body of Frank Knize, 24, after he and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Cecelia Knize, of Jacks Island, became stranded in a small motorboat and were swept over the dam at Lock No. 4.

The woman, 19, a bride of five weeks, was rescued by two youthful steel workers, John Matovich and Robert Hill, who ran to the rescue upon hearing her screams as the boat disappeared into the Eddies below the dam. She was thrown clear of the whirlpools and by linking hands and plunging themselves into the icy waters, the steel workers managed to rescue her.

Famous Spanish Dancer Returns To United States

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 25.—Rosita Diaz, famous Spanish movie star once reported executed as a Loyalist spy, is back in America to resume a film career interrupted when she returned to Spain to fulfill a movie contract just before the outbreak of the civil war.

"The report that I was shot as a spy was exaggerated—as you can see," Miss Diaz stated upon her arrival in New York. "I was working on the final scenes of a picture at Cordoba when hostilities began. Because of a telephone call from Madrid, after communications were supposed to have been suspended, I was questioned by General Franco's military police but released the following day with apologies."

The petite, auburn-haired actress starred in two Spanish-language pictures in Hollywood in 1935 and made cinema history when she sat in a bathtub for nine hours during the making of a scene. Studio executives acknowledged her to be one of the most beautiful women in the film capital and predicted a brilliant future in English-speaking parts.

Republican State Leaders Jubilant

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 25.—Republican state leaders were jubilant Wednesday because more Republicans than Democrats voted in Tuesday's primary election.

State Chairman James F. Torrance was confident that the large turnout augurs well for a G. O. P. victory next November.

"Republican voters nominated on the state ticket candidates who exhibited their popularity and who will be elected next November by a plurality of at least 500,000," said Torrance. "I am extremely pleased by the uniformly high vote cast in all counties.

"The voters picked qualified candidates for the general assembly, assuring Republican majorities in each branch when the voters act next November."

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

TRAGIC COINCIDENCE

PALMER, Mass., April 23.—Coincidence marked the death of two friends. Three days after Linwood Hopkins, 21, was accidently killed by a train a mile west of the Palmer station, his chum, George Marshall, 19, of Barre, was struck and killed by a train at approximately the same place.

Doctors say low blood pressure, now afflicting thousands, makes them live longer but takes the fun out of living. We always thought that was low-income pressure.

16 SCIENTISTS

to amaze world with great discovery about

CONSTIPATION

Tests at world-famous hospital reveal how Nature's own gentle, complete "daily" bowel movements can be produced

Get relief from headaches, indigestion and nervousness due to Constipation. Then feel peppier—keener of mind. Brighter eyes.

AFTER months of intensive tests in one of the world's most famous hospitals—16 scientists have discovered sensational facts about an IDEAL "daily" treatment for constipation—

It has been definitely proven one of the chief causes of constipation is lack of moisture in the colon. Waste matter then becomes caked, dry, hard and difficult to move on. Constipation often follows with its headaches, dull eyes, sallow muddy skin, and you "tire easily."

Tests showed that the taking of many cathartics, laxatives, and harsh "roughage" products often made this condition worse.

SUCCESS AT LAST!

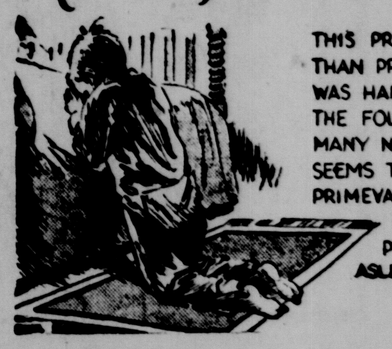

But these clever men of science found a way to ACTUALLY PRODUCE NATURE'S OWN GENTLE PLEASANT BOWEL ACTION. Simply take a little daily dose of healthful Kruschen, (world-famous formula), in a glass of water.

Kruschen now comes in effervescent form—sparkling—"bubbling"—and makes a most pleasant tasting drink. Kruschen keeps waste matter in the colon moist and soft and enables it to be gently expelled from the body. No nausea! No griping! No violence! Truly an IDEAL treatment for more gentle, complete "daily" elimination of harmful poisons, acids and waste. ALSO a splendid mild antacid and kidney diuretic. Inexpensive!! A jar that lasts WEEKS costs only a trifle. Over 245,000,000 jars of Kruschen have been sold by drugstores thruout the world—Kruschen must be good and do the work! Made in U.S.A.

Now comes in delightful, pleasant tasting "bubbling" form!

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

RHEUMATIC FEVER

I can speak with a good deal of understanding about rheumatic fever because I had it myself when I was a child. That was forty-five years ago, but I can still remember it very, very clearly. I will never forget the pain that went with the attack I had. It was so acute for a few days that I screamed when people came near me for fear they would touch the bed.

I really had a bad attack, I realize now, and I think it was diseased tonsils that caused it. However, I was fortunate, for I had a father who was a country doctor with a good many years' experience, and I can thank him that I am alive today. He didn't seem much worried about the pain I was suffering, but he was very much concerned about my heart. The result was he kept me in bed for six weeks.

The first two weeks I suffered so much pain that I was quite satisfied to stay in bed. But the last month was tough. My pains were gone, I felt fine, and I couldn't see a reason in the world why I shouldn't be up and playing with the others. My father was adamant and stern about the whole thing. He just wouldn't hear of me getting out of bed at all.

Well, the six weeks dragged by, and finally I was allowed up. Even then, he would listen to my heart every day or so to see if there were any mummurs to indicate that the poison had done some damage.

I know now that it was that long rest in bed that kept me from having a bad heart; from being an invalid all my life. Now when I have trouble with a girl or boy, keeping them in bed, I tell them this story, and I find it helpful in convincing them they must be quiet.

If a doctor is going to keep a child in bed long enough to make sure that the victim's heart isn't going to be impaired, he must have one hundred per cent cooperation from the family. Yet I have had parents use all kinds of pressure on me to let their child get up before he should. And I have had others who collaborated with the child in fooling me into thinking that he was in bed when he was up and about. Yet these same people, when the blow falls, when they are told that their child's heart will never be strong enough to let him have a normal life, never seem to realize that the blame lies right at their own door.

The Dionne Quintuplets all had bad tonsils for more than a year. We couldn't operate because the children weren't in good enough shape for that ordeal. So we had to go on, watching them carefully, trying to build them up so we could take the tonsils and adenoids out.

All the time they had them, I watched those children like a hawk, for more than anything else, perhaps, I was afraid of rheumatic fever. I warned the nurses to be on the watch for the first sign of "growing pains" in any of the children. We were fortunate. When the day came, a year ago last fall, that we could take the tonsils out, the children were still free from any of the symptoms of rheumatic fever.

Strive To Prevent German Seizure Of Credits In Banks

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 25. — Responding to a plea by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, the House Banking Committee Wednesday voted to report a bill designed to prevent Germany from seizing Danish and Norwegian credits in this country.

The bill agreed upon by the committee was so framed that if Germany invades Holland and Sweden the money and credits of those countries in the United States also will be "frozen" for duration of the war.

An executive "freezing" order was issued recently, but Morgenthau asked for legislation confirming the action.

Morgenthau planned to appear before the Senate Banking Committee later in the day asking speedy action on the proposal. Senator Glass (D.) Virginia, promised his support.

"I am one of those impossible persons who believe we should prevent Germany from getting any property of those invaded nations—do it right if we can, wrong if we must," said Glass.

Hughes Reports Thirty Millions Are Transferable

Transferring Of $30,900,000 To Relief Fund Would Not Hurt Highway Program

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 25. — Approximately $30,900,000 may be transferred from the motor fund for relief purposes without handicapping the state's highway operations, Secretary of Highways I. Lamont Hughes today informed Gov. Arthur H. James.

This would be leave the James administration with the problem of raising an additional $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 for relief from other sources.

Hughes said the $30,900,000 represented an estimated cash balance the department expected to have in reserve on May 31, 1941.

He added that motor fund receipts may show an increase for the biennium and this could be added to the $30,900,000.

Transfer of the huge sum to the state's relief coffers will be made at the special session of the General Assembly which is expected to be convened by Governor James on May 6 or 13.

Highway expenditures, Hughes told the governor, would approximate $11,450,000 during April and May, 1940, and were expected to total $73,050,000 during the fiscal year of 1940-41.

"This total of $84,500,000," declared Hughes, "will suffice to finance all our road maintenance and operating costs for the period and all construction which we now have underway or expect to have underway during the 1940 construction season."

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1940 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Baboons (of all things) are very much in the news these days. John P. Foley, Junior, writing in the periodical, Science, tells the story of a little boy who was carried away, literally kidnaped by a band of baboons. For 11 years, until he was recaptured by the Cape Mounted Police in South Africa, he lived with these creatures, was gently reared by them and learned to chatter their language. An impressive group of scientists sails to Borneo to live with baboons and study their psychology, sociology, morphology, anthropology and anatomy. You would scarcely think that a baboon possessed so many ologies.

My friend, Frank Buck, I hear, is fixing for another trip to the Dutch East Indies to bring 'em back alive, and Columbia university has just landed 30 grade-A baboons on Santiago Island, which is just off the coast of Puerto Rico, not far from San Juan.

You might ask what there is in common between this breed of apes and the great university of Morningside Heights, here in New York. Well, the answer is that the baboon, of all living creatures, is nearest to man. It even prefers to walk on its hind legs rather than on all fours, and reveals some astonishing humanlike traits. So Columbia's Dr. Clarence Raymond Carpenter has just turned loose 30 of the creatures on Columbia's experimental island, and they will be studied and bred for more precise information about neurology, psychology and physiology, and, perhaps most important of all, to ascertain, if at all possible, whether there are physical reasons for criminality. The whole tropical island is given over to baboons and several species of monkeys.

Perhaps the Columbia research people can find time to obtain from the baboons their formula for avoiding war, child labor, patent cigarette lighters, smutty Confucius-say jokes, marathon dances, cover charges, lady bar-flies, political oracles and torch singers. But probably there is a demand for monkeys. In southern California, where the climate suits them, they are beginning to rival movie stars in popularity. Columbia's researches among the baboons of Santiago Island may throw some light on the perennial problem of the comparative importance of heredity and environment.

The winter is past us, bad cess to it! A meaner one could scarcely be imagined—the worst in 100 years over in Europe, as if they didn't have enough to endure without the cruelty of weather. But spring is here, thanks be—the lovely lady who makes all things new and paints the land with flowers.

The birds are winging back from the south and their fresh melody falls sweetly on the ear. The turf is greening wherever the sun falls warm. The back fly and the mosquito soon will be pursuing their evil, wicked ways. The ice will be going out as winter's grip is broken on pond and stream. The gay, speckled trout will be boiling to the surface and snapping at the first hatch of flies on Spencer stream and Baker pond. In his haunts deep back in the forest of spruce and pine and hard wood, the black bear will be ripping the bark from blowdowns and dead trees to paw out the white grubs which are his favorite spring delicacy. Brother Fox will come pussy-footing down the old tote road hunting for partridges sunning themselves in the woodland glades.

Spring is here, I say, throwing wide the whole outdoors for the winter-weary folk, and the chorus of her gaiety and joy are all about us. The voice of the turtle is heard in the stillness of the night and the first flush of the morning. Upon a thousand golf courses gentlemen are already whaling away at the little white ball and the baseball season is on. It was Heinrich Heine who wrote:

"I hear a thousand nightingales. Spring has sent them to awaken Earth from her morning slumber, and Earth trembles with ecstacy. Her flowers are hymns which she sings in inspiration to the sun. The sun moves far too slowly. I would fain lash on his steeds that they might advance more rapidly. But when he sinks hissing in the sea, and the night rises with her great passionate eyes, oh, then true pleasures first thrill through me, the evening breezes lie like flattering maidens on my wild heart, and the stars wink at me, and I rise and sweep over the little earth and the little thoughts of man!"

Simple Services Held In Stockholm For Late Captain Robert M. Losey

(International News Service)

STOCKHOLM, April 25—Funeral services were held here today for Captain Robert M. Losey, American air attache killed in a Nazi air bombardment in Norway Sunday.

As an honor guard of Swedish aircraft hovered overhead and a small orchestra played strains of Bach's prelude, simple services were held before the flag-draper coffin containing his body was taken to a crematory.

American consular officials, led by Mrs. J. Borden Harriman U. S. minister to Norway, headed the funeral procession. Uniformed Swedish air marine officers, representing the minister for defense, marched in the cortege. Among the other American consular representatives were Frederick Sterling, minister to Sweden, marine attache commander Ole Hagen and the military attache at Stockholm.

Dies Committee Turns Probe To Shipping Field

Charge C. I. O. Maritime Unions Are Communist Dominated After Inquiries

By GRIFFING BANCROFT, Jr.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 25—Armed with "proof that CIO maritime unions the Communist-dominated," the Dies committee today turned its investigation to asserted trojan horse tactics in the shipping field.

Chairman Dies (D) tex., announced that the first phase of the inquiry will concern the west coast, with former union members from that region as witnesses.

"The Communist party in the maritime field, in the same way as we have shown in transport and communications, is filtering members into the key spots in order to create chaos in time of war or revolution," Dies declared.

"We have evidence they plan to tie up shipping and especially to prevent shipments from leaving this country for the Allies in the present war.

We are exposing these plans before they have a chance to carry them out. If the Department of Justice and other agencies of the government would co-operate, we could stop them short and clean up the entire situation."

Dies said the committee would "go into the entire maritime situation in detail" and call witnesses from east coast unions as well as from the Pacific.

Yesterday, Fred M. Howe, a Marine radio operator and former secretary-treasurer for the American Communications Association (CIO) in New York, testified that the Communist party controls the union, and has member-operators in many ship and shore stations.

He said these operators were ready "to tie up communications in this country in order to help put over a Soviet system."

Another committee witness said Communists had secured control of the CIO Transport Workers Union in New York and were ready in that field "for a complete revolutionary situation."

Beaver Valley Water Company Case Is Argued

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 25.—The State Superior Court today heard arguments on a motion to quash the appeal of the Beaver Valley Water Company from an order of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission setting up temporary rates.

Counsel for the utility commission contended statutory limitations for an appeal had expired and the high court decided to settle this issue first before considering the merits of the rate controversy itself.

Attorney Joseph A. Beck, appearing for the Water Company, declared he was entitled to appeal an interim order of the commission which affirmed the original order of March 15, 1938. He also charged the P.U.C. abused its discretionary powers.

Amid frequent interpolations from the jurists, Beck presented his argument and the court indicated it would rule shortly on the motion.

The case itself revolves around establishment of temporary rates by the P.U.C. which trimmed the company's income $29,000 annually. It was based on the P.U.C.'s theory of "original cost, less depreciation." The Water Company charged the P.U.C.'s valuation of its assets was too low.

President Vetoes Bill To Pay Funds To Spanish Vets

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 25.—President Roosevelt today vetoed a bill which would have resulted in the payment of $7,000,000 to 15,000 Spanish-American war veterans who served in the Philippines.

The bill provided for travel and subsistence expenses for the troops from the Philippine Islands to the United States.

In his veto message, the president said he had been told by the comptroller general that payments under the measure for the water travel alone would exceed one year's pay.

"Approval of this bill," the president said, "would result in the payment of a gratuity to each of the officers and men concerned—a benefit utterly without warrant since each individual concerned has already received transportation and subsistence at government expense for the journey in addition to full pay for the entire time."

Italy Suggests Balkan Conference

(International News Service)

BELGRADE, April 25—Italy is considering the possibilty of an Italo-German-Russian agreement to settle problems confronting the countries of southeast Europe, the newspaper Politika said it learned today.

The disclosure, which the Politika said it obtained on good authority came as a complete surprise in view of Italian Premier Benito Mussolina's often expressed antipathy for all things Russian.

The newspaper continued to say that the agreement was expected to be "informal" as Italy could not enter into a written pact with belligerent Germany.

Thus Italy hopes, the newspaper said, to safeguard Balkan peace.

Admiral's Blast Causes Tension

Senator Demands Officers Of Armed Service Be Curbed In Drastic Talk

By JOSEPH H. BAIRD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 25. — New tension in Japanese-American relations was revealed today as an aftermath to Rear Admiral Joseph K. Taussig's statement that war between the United States and Japan was "inevitable."

At the same time, Senator Bennett C. Clark (D) Mo., planned to press action on his proposed resolution forbidding officers of the armed services from speaking on major matters of national policy without consent of their chiefs. Officers defying the projected ban would be subject to courtmartial.

Clark also called for immediate courtmartial of Taussig. Naval circles, however, did not believe any such drastic action would be taken against the admiral, long a student of the Far East, who told the Senate Naval Affairs committee that the United States must prepare to fight Japan.

Expected Tokyo reaction to the Taussig statement came today from the Japanese foreign office, describing the declaration as the "springtime blow off of a smart alec." It was noted in Washington, however, that Taussig's remarks were no more inflammatory than others in similar vein made by high Japanese naval officers over the last three years.

BRITISH EQUIP 'TOMMIES' WITH HIGH GRADE SHOES

(International News Service)

LONDON — British shotmaking factories are turning out 140,000 pairs of high grade shoes every week for the army.

During the last war thousands of "tommies" suffered from badly blistered feet as the result of wearing heavy, bad fitting, high shoes.

The British soldier of today, however, is supplied with "the country gentleman's regulation high shoe," which is exceedingly light, durable and good fitting.

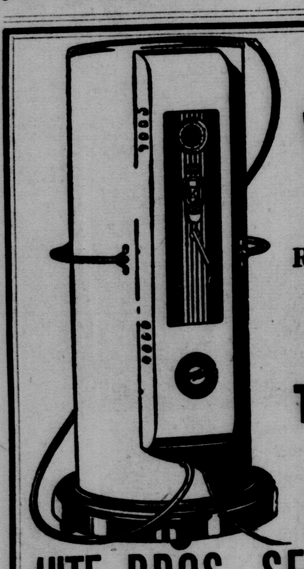

Every factory in Northampton center of the shoemaking industry in England, is working day and night to supply the demands for footwear.

Boxing World Mourns Death Of Joe Jacobs

Colorful Manager of Tony Galento And Former Manager of Maxie Schmeling Drops Dead

PILOTED MANY GREAT FIGHTERS

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 25.—Leaving behind scores of anecdotes and some of the most thrilling incidents in pugilistic annals, little Joe Jacobs was dead today, victim of a heart attack which felled him last night while he laughed at his own discomfort.

Thus passed on the most colorful and resourceful fight manager of this era. He died in the midst of preparations for fulfillment of one of his most cherished ventures, the fight between Tony Galento, whom he handled, and Max Baer, scheduled for May 28 at Jersey City, N. J.

A sartorially resplendant figure whether he was in the chips or living on what he could hustle together between ring paydays brought in by his fighters, Jacobs had been prominent in boxing for 25 years, or ever since he came out of the Hell's Kitchen region of New York's West Side as a towel-waver for neighborhood cronies in bouts at old Madison Square Garden. His career was highlighted by gaudy incidents that made the headlines scream. He would have been 44 on May 7.

Managed Many Champs

At one time or another he managed Mike McTigue and Jack Delaney, both light heavyweight champions; Max Schmeling, whom he hollered into the heavyweight title; Andre Routis, one-time featherweight champion; Frankie Genaro, once flyweight crown-bearer, and Galento, who nearly won him another championship.

His masterpiece of phenagling—at which he was more adept than any manager currently in the business—was achieved on June 12, 1930, when Schmeling met Jack Sharkey in a scheduled 15-round bout to decide a successor to Gene Tunney as heavyweight champion.

It isn't proof of bravery not to fear death, for it doesn't seem near. The test is whether you fear life.

Sports World Ramblings

Several readers ask for a change of pace on our part. They request a few columns dealing strictly with baseball—major and minor. After donning our sandlot regalia, we wind up and type:—

It was do or die for Lynwood Rowe last Sunday. Didn't Detroit ask for waivers on the Schoolboy two days before he strapped the Cleveland Indians? The guess is that the answer is not no. . . . Marius Russo is slated to move up into Gomez's hurling spot. El Goofo has seen his better days with the Yanks. . . . Look for Frankie Pytlak to sign a Cleveland contract before the next sundown. If he doesn't he'll join the inactive list along with his other holdout pal, Joe Glenn, of the Browns. . . .

"Chubby" Dean can't stop laughing. Back in 1935, believe it or not, the Yanks turned their noses up at the ex-Duke star. Today, he stands alone—the sole twirler to spank the champs twice in eight days. . . . Speaking of goose-eggs, the Yanks were blanked only once last season, June 5, by Tommy Bridges. . . . Tom Sheehan thinks his 1940 Minneapolis ensemble will better its own home run league record of 217 four plyers in one season. . . .

Tex Carleton is still Queen of the Bee-Hive. His latest triumph over the Bean eaters marked the 31st time in 42 episodes that he was subdued the Bees. . . . Can those reports about Earl Averill packing his grip for a trip to the National, for the time being at least. After his pinch hit, which defeated the White Sox, Monday, Earl became the Motor City hero. . . . Joe Vance, up with the Yanks for a brief trial after chucking with Kansas City, has been shipped to Newark. An appendectomy operation is the blame.

This may sound fantastic but it has a strong possibility of materializing into a major scoop. If Jerome "Dizzy" Dean doesn't show something more than "hot air", a bit of sensational news may be the result. Said scoopie may involve another lame tosser, a one Van Lingle Mungo, of Brooklyn, the Dodgers' star boarder. Dean's appearance in Flatbush would fit in nicely with MacPhail's box office plans. If this doesn't go through, that is if Dean fails to impress and here's hoping he wins 30 balls games, he won't be wearing a Cub suit all season. . .

Odds and ends—Swayne Field, home of the Toledo Mudhens, boasts of one of the longest left field fences in baseball. To make room for an electric scorebard, the distance was shaved some 18 feet during the winter season. The distance is still 360 feet. Few balls soared over the wall in past seasons. . . . The Albany Club has a new bus which bears a "stop sign" reading: "Stop! We'll do the hitting. Albany Senators." . . . At Crosley Field, home and visiting National Leaguers can win a new suit of clothes by hitting a big sign atop a laundry roof back of left field. The clout, however, must be fair. . . .

Aside to readers: How's about sending in a bit of grist for the mill, the feed box is almost empty. . . .

NEW YORK, April 25.—The pennant fever raging so feverishly in Brooklyn today has already begun to pay dividends at the gate and Larry MacPhail, whose gentlest whisper can be heard a hundred yards away, is confident his club will not only draw more than the million attendance it had last year, but will outdraw every club in the majors.

Thus far the Dodgers have outdrawn even the world champion Yanks by at least two-to-one and if they continue winning they will have the rabid Brooklyn fans tearing down the stands in their effort to get in.

Topping the league with four straight victories, the Dodgers themselves are felling the pennant fever as well as the fans. They are playing heads-up baseball, fighting for everthing and refusing to quit when trailing.

Dodgers Top Bees

They saw their ace, Whit Wyatt, driven to cover by the Bees yesterday, but they kept plugging away and eventually staged a three-run rally to win in the eighth. Fred Walker's pinch single was the blow that gave them the verdict, 8-6.

Meanwhile, the Giants were getting another well-pitched game—this time a five-hitter by Hy Vandenberg, and the result was a 5-2 decision over the Phils. The Giants aren't hitting a lick and they'll have to get superlative pitching to make up for their lack of power.

The Cubs, operating behind big Bill Lee, finally stopped the Pirates, 9-4, and the Reds and Cards were flooded out in Cincinnati.

Yanks Trim Macks

And just when dear old Connie Mack was beginning to believe that he had only to toss in a lefthander, any lefthander, to beat the Yanks, the Yanks rose up and walloped one Herman Besse to a fare-thee-well.

The Yanks really unloaded this time, Rolfe getting two homers and Gordon and Hendich one apiece, to give Ruffing an easy 9-4 victory.

The Senators finally found the glory road by talking old Lefty Grove and the Red Sox, 9-6, but not without some outrageous help from Jim Tabor, who once forgot to cover third and made a boot that led to three runs.

The Indians, still going strong, downed the Browns, 6-4, and the Tigers, with Tommy Bridges uncorking a five-hitter and Rudy York walloping a homer, beat the White Sox, 2 to 1.

LIGHTS CAUSE BLINDNESS

(International News Service)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 23.—Those glaring headlights on the highway cause blindness for three seconds. This was the finding of tests conducted in Sacramento by the California state division of motor vehicles. During the three seconds an oncoming car, driven at the legal rate of 45 miles an hour, will travel 200 feet with the motorist blinded by glare.

Golf League Plans Complete

Sylvan Heights Teams Are Ready For Opening Of Season On May 10

With 12 teams in the league, anxiously awaiting the opening of the season, the Sylvan Heights Golf League is ready for the opening date on May 10, President Geno Veri announced today, following a meeting of the team representatives in the Sylvan Heights clubhouse last evening.

Teams which were represented last evening and who will tee off in the opener May 10, are: Irons Fentons, Ellport A. A., Ellwood City Moose, Ellwood City Saxons, Shenango Pottery, Shelby Social Club, Duca D'Abruzzi, Universal Sanitary, Saegertowns, Unions and New Castle Moose.

The league will play on Friday evenings, the same as last year, and in order to get all the games in before darkness calls a halt in the late summer. It is planned to play twice weekly during the middle of the season for a few weeks.

The officers of this league, the pioneer golf league of Western Pennsylvania, are: President, Geno Veri; vice president, Marty Kovach; secretary, Lee Starr; handicap chairman, Charles Perrotta; entertainment chairman, Frank Summers.

The schedule committee will draw up the schedule preparatory to the opening of the season, which will be posted in the clubhouse at Sylvan Heights in a few days.

Athletes Limber Up For Relays

Over 2,000 Athletes Gather At Des Moines For Annual Drake Relays

(International News Service)

DES MOINES, Ia., April 25.—Flying spikes bit into the cinders in Drake Stadium today as 2,000 athletes from 182 schools tested the compact runways rebuilt in preparation for the 31st Annual Drake Relays, to be held in Des Moines tomorrow and Saturday.

The cream of the nation's runners found the track to their liking, and predictions of new records were freely made.

For the first time in 12 years, every school in the Big Ten Conference was entered in the relays. The Western Conference contingent will be led by the powerful, well-balanced squad from the University of Michigan, Big Ten indoor champions and winners of last week's quadrangular meet with Indiana, Notre Dame and Illinois.

The Wolverines will be crowded in relay races by the Hoosiers, who boast some of the fastest combinations in the country.

From the Southwest and the deep South, however, came scores of athletes, tried and tested in early season meets, to assure that the Big Ten would have no monopoly of records in the 1940 meet.

HAVE STRONG TEAM

The West Pittsburg girls softball team, members of the city girls' softball league, will have a strong team this year, it was announced by Co-Managers Joe Schultz and Roy Papa. Towards the end of the 1939 season the West Pittsburg girls won seven of their last nine games. The West Pittsburg girls should be contenders for the title this year.

Star Teams To Bowl Tonight

(International News Service)

DETROIT, April 25.—Another assault upon the leadership in the five-man event of the American Bowling Congress was due today with the firing handled by Detroit's Bourgeois and the Los Angeles Brunswick Mineralites.

The Detroit outfit is captained by Harold Allen who shared an ABC doubles title with his brother Roy back in 1915. The coast team has Gene Gagliardi who won the singles crown with 749 at New York three years ago.

Three changes were recorded in the minor events as James McMahon, 28-year-old clerk of New York City teamed with Sid Baum to take over fourth place in the doubles column with 1313. The former also tallied 684 in the singles to reach third place in the All-Events in 1980.

A few minutes after the New York pair finished, George Nice and Arthur Landmark, Denver, Colo., combined for 1321 and third place in the doubles.

Sixteen British Citizens Shot To Death By Nazis

(International News Service)

LONDON, April 25.—Execution of sixteen British civilians who volunteered for service in Finland by German military authorities during the recent occupation of Oslo was charged today by Neil Munro, 18-year-old London student, who returned to England with three companions today.

"Sixty-four of us arrived in Oslo six hours before the Germans marched in," Munro said.

"Twenty of us tried to escape. Four of us suceeded. Later we learned that the Germans put sixteen of our comrades against a wall and shot them on charges of espionage and sabotage."

Munro said that he and the three other volunteers hitch-hiked across Norway in "terrible weather," suffering from hunger and exposure.

They spent five days aboard a British warship at some unnamed Norwegian port and finally came home aboard a returning transport. Munro said he believed 40 others of the original 64 escaped into Sweden.

Bimelech Will Get Test Today

Kentucky Derby Favorite Will Race At Keeneland Track Near Lexington

HIGHLY FAVORED TO WIN MAY 4

By CLYDE L. REECE
International News Service Sports Writer

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 25.—A derby-minded nation will know before nightfall whether Bimelech is the horse he's cracked up to be, or whether he's just one of the 126 Kentucky Derby hopefuls whose owners paid $25 a head to enter last winter.

Guided by Jockey F. A. Smith, who piloted him to six victories in as many starts as a 2-year-old last year, the great colt from Col. E. R. Bradley's stables will make his debut as a 3-year-old in the Blue-grass Stakes at Keeneland Race Track, near Lexington, late this afternoon.

Is Derby Test

The mile-and-an-eighth task is for $5,000 added, and it also is a test and a workout for the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs in Louisville May 4. Bimelech will be opposed by two horses—Bashful Duck, his stable mate, and Roman, a go-getter who last week won his initial 1940 race.

Some sing long and loud about Roman—how he will win and jar the teeth of the fans, upset the Derby band wagon and give the winter books players one large headache. But the majority sing longer and louder on how "Big Bim," a gangly and determined blue-blood, will take the race, hooves-down. Some think the finish will be: Bimelech, Bashful Duck, and Roman.

The trouble with this country . . . (one of the troubles) . . . those in public office take advantage of the poor tax payer. Now we don't say all public office holders are of this type but enough of them are that they stand out in front of the others. If a man keeps his feet on the ground, treats the taxpayer the same after he is elected as he did before, then this old world would look a little different. But politicians will be politicians and humans will be humans.

And in case you are still looking for a nice little dog that will be good around children you might see if this one is suitable. Mrs. W. L. Wallace, 210 E. Sheridan Ave. . . . Part bull and terrier, female, 6 months old and house broke.

"The longer I live
And the more I see,
Of the struggle of souls
For the lights above,
The stronger the Truth
Comes home to me,
That,—"The Universe rests
On the shoulders of Love.'
A love so Boundless,
Deep and Broad,
That men have renamed it
And called it,—GOD."

Even the Eskimos are feeling the pinch of the European war. According to the Rev. George L. Neilson, for six years a missionary in southern Raffin island, the Eskimos have had to do without their two luxuries — tobacco and tea — because they can't be brought due to high taxes imposed since the start of the war.

Steel Shares Show Strength

Restoration Of Recent Price Cuts Results In Better Strength In Stocks

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, April 25.—Moderate strength in steel shares on the restoration of recent price cuts by Carnegie-Illinois provided the lone feature in a generally drab stock market today.

A few stocks gained a point or more at the forenoon peaks, including Bethlehem, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Air Reduction, Johns-Manville and Eastern Air Lines.

The steels, however, were subjected to profit taking very soon.

Fractional gains included those in International Nickel, Kennecott, General Electric, American Car & Foundry, Pullman, Standard Oil of N. J., Union Carbide, American Telephone and B. M. T.

U. S. Smelting dropped a point before meeting support in an otherwise quiet mining section.

Fight Is Fatal To Pittsburgher

Man Is Held By Police Awaiting Outcome Of Autopsy

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 25.—Shortly after a sidewalk fist-fight with a man whose wife he was accused of annoying, Henry Geyer, 59, of Wilkinsburg, was found dead early today in suburban East Liberty.

Police immediately took into custody John Harding, 29, and announced he would be held pending outcome of an autopsy to be performed on Geyer's body later today. Harding, they said, admitted hitting Geyer during a fight at the spot where the victim was found, charging that the brawl followed Geyer's annoying advances to his wife and after the intruder had struck him in the face, smashing his glasses.

Harding told police that Geyer, an acquaintance, was invited to join the Hardings and three other friends in a Hamilton avenue beer garden. There Geyer began to annoy Mrs. Harding by putting his arms around her. The party moved on to a Chinese restaurant and Geyer, uninvited, followed, Harding said. More annoying advances caused Harding to protest, the husband added, and Geyer struck him in the face.

Others in the party held his arm so he could not fight back, Harding continued, until Geyer moved off, taunting the couple from a distance. Harding said he broke away and chased Geyer to the scene of the fight. A truck driver who saw the fist-fight reported that Geyer fell back against a building and slumped to the ground. When he failed to get up, the witness, Charles Norr, called police. Harding was taken into custody at his home.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

What are the leading causes of death in Pennsylvania?

The order of the leading causes of death has changed since 1906.

Then tuberculosis, pneumonia and heart disease led.

With nephritis, cerebral hemorrhage and cancer following.

Today heart disease leads, with cancer and cerebral hemorrhage after.

Nephritis, pneumonia and tuberculosis follow in that order.

The reduction in tuberculosis death is most startling.

There are less than half as many deaths now as in 1906.

Pneumonia, too, shows a spectacular drop in recent years.

There was a reduction of 2,202 actual deaths in 1938 over 1937.

Heart disease shows greater increase in deaths.

From 9,533 in 1906 to 31,440 in 1938.

ILLEGAL VOTING CHARGE IS MADE

Michael L. Bobbino, 1020 Beckford street, charged by County Detective Paul A. Welsh with voting illegally, waived his case to the June court when he appeared before Alderman Wallace J. Ewing.

The complaint alleges that Bobbino voted Democratic ballot 82, on September 12, 1939 in the first precinct of the eighth ward when he did not "possess qualifications of an elector." He posted bond of $500.
